Tracking A Spy Through A Nest Or Computer Espionage

When a female cuckoo finds a suitable nest, and the hosts aren't looking, she removes one of their eggs and lays her own egg in its place. The young cuckoo hatches after only 12 days and quickly pushes the hosts' eggs or babies out of the nest. After 19 days it leaves the nest, but the hosts continue to feed it for two more weeks, by which Cuckoos also fool their hosts with egg "mimicry". Their eggs' colour and markings resemble those of their victims The birds only spend a quarter of the year - from mid April to mid July - in this country, and the team hopes that the data generated by the project will shed light on what is causing their decline.
